Convicts Give Up After Holding Guards Hostage

FORT PILLOW, Tenn. (AP)—Ten riding convicts surrendered peacefully at 10:30 a. m. (CST) today to end a 14-hour siege of the Fort Pillow State Prison Farm.

By DON MCLEOD
FORT PILLOW, Tenn. (AP)—Faced by uneasy stalemate, convicts who held two prison farm guards as hostages busily strengthened the barricades at their beleaguered dormitory today at the Fort Pillow prison farm.

By the guards were seized Monday night when 130 men staged an unexpected riot. They threatened to kill the guards if officers rushed the building. They demanded a conference with state officials on prison farm conditions.

Keith Hampton, state commissioner of institutions, flew in from Nashville to confer with guards of the revolt. After several talks with them, he said negotiations had bogged down.

Hampton said the convicts at first agreed to accept solitary confinement as punishment for the riot with the state agreeing that their "good time" would not be touched. "Good time" is the time off a sentence for good behavior.

Before the agreement could be finally settled, Hampton said, the convicts upped their demands to no punishment whatever, plus insistence that their conditions be broadcast by radio.

The new conditions were rejected. Hampton said the convicts withdrew behind their barricade at the front door. One of them shouted, "Come in and get us."

The commissioner said the convicts were not going to dictate conditions.

FORT PILLOW, Tenn. (AP)—A state official talked with leaders of a convict revolt at the state prison farm early today, then recessed negotiations until daylight.

Keith Hampton, commissioner of institutions, ordered a group of newsmen and photographers be allowed into the dormitory where the 150 convicts lay barricaded with two armed guards as hostages.

"Let them work off some steam," he said. "These boys want a little attention, a little publicity. All they want is to get Continued on Page Two

Merchants Picnic Wednesday

CHECKING THE FINAL MENU for the Hope Retail Merchants' annual Employees family picnic are left to right: Bill Caldwell, chairman; James Howell, promotion chairman; Joe Jones, who will do the cooking; and Don Simpson, who furnished much of the food.

The picnic will be held at Hope Fair Park Wednesday night, beginning at 5:30 p. m. All employees of Hope Retail Merchants committee of the Chamber of Commerce, and their families, are invited and urged to attend this picnic. Food is being prepared for over 250 persons and an evening of entertainment is planned. This picnic is the kickoff for "Shopping Days" which the Hope Retail Merchants Committee has planned for Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

Britain to Enter Field of Satellites

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Macmillan said today Britain is getting ready to enter the artificial earth satellite field.

Macmillan said Britain may send satellites into orbit either with the cooperation of its British Commonwealth partners, or with the United States.

"We therefore plan to send to Washington a team of experts to discuss possible Anglo-American cooperation," the Prime Minister told the House of Commons.

"We are also opening consultations with other Commonwealth countries," he said.

Macmillan said British experts are studying the possibility of adapting "satellite" projectors military rockets now under development in this country.

"We will put us in a position, should we decide to do so, to make an all-British effort," he said.

Says World Looks to U. S. for Leadership

WASHINGTON (AP)—King Baudouin of Belgium told Congress today the free world looks to the United States for leadership in averting war.

"Where better can the free people of the free world look for the averting of war and death, than to your nation, so vibrant with the love of life?" he asked.

"It is unthinkable that those who spend so much to save life would ever think to destroy it."

In an 800-word address to a joint session of the Senate and House, he said he had come to this country to register the solidarity between the people of Belgium and the United States.

Without mentioning communism by name, Baudouin in his prepared address warned against this new kind of imperialism.

"The older imperialism sought the conquest of lands; the new seeks the mastery of intellects," he said.

The King said his country is determined to permit the people of the Congo, Belgium's rich African colony, to choose their future destiny.

"As soon as they mature, as soon as they have received the loving care in education that I can give them, we shall launch them forth on their own enterprise and independent existence," Baudouin declared.

Jury to Continue Alford Vote Probe

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The federal Grand Jury probing the Hayes Alford congressional election of last fall has decided to continue its inquiry.

Rep. Dale Alford (D-Ark.) defeated incumbent Brooks Hays for the Fifth District post after a bitter campaign, and the jury is investigating charges that federal election laws were violated.

The panel met yesterday to hear a report from an eight-man committee, which has examined the ballots used.

A House subcommittee also looking into the election has asked to examine the ballot materials June 22, and Jury Foreman Cecil C. Thibault said he hoped the panel's work would be completed then.

Petitions for Recall Vote Filed by STOP

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—An organization seeking the ouster of three segregationist members of the Little Rock School Board filed petitions today for an election to recall the trio.

In a whirlwind campaign, the committee to Stop This Outrageous Purge (STOP) collected thousands of signatures.

The committee's four-day petition campaign was unopposed against the board members because of a teacher purge.

Dr. Drew Agar, president of STOP, filed the petitions with Pulaski County Clerk F. S. Peters. Agar said he turned over 9,000 signatures. About 8,200 were required to obtain an election.

Segregationist opponents of STOP also campaigned to get signatures on petitions to recall three moderate board members who denounced the purge. No estimate of the number of signatures obtained was available.

STOP's petition drive was aided by outgoing Board President Ed L. McKinley and members Robert W. Lester and Ben Rowland, who last week fired 14 teachers and administrators. They gave no reason for the firings at first, but later said some of the teachers held "integrationist views."

The segregationist Mother League of Central High School is trying to recall the moderate board members, Everett Tucker Jr., Ted Lamb and Russell Matson Jr.

Mrs. Margaret Jackson, league president, could not be reached for comment, but a spokesman for her declined to say how many signatures had been gathered.

Dr. Malcolm Taylor, president of the Capital Citizens Council, which is aiding the drive, said his organization was busy tallying names but he did not know the total.

Agar said his committee's work would continue through the election which under law can be called within about three weeks.

"We've just started," Agar said. "We have got to carry this thing through."

Support for the STOP movement mushroomed throughout the city after it was announced. Parents, Teachers Assn. groups, Little Rock Chamber of Commerce and the Little Rock Ministerial Alliance joined in attacking the teacher firings. The Ministerial Alliance voted to support the recall of McKinley, Rowland and Lester.

Board member Matson, in a brief talk to a P-TA group last night, said:

"If we can keep on, we can keep the Little Rock schools open and end up with a better school system than we have ever had."

County officials have three days to certify petitions for a recall election.

Southerners, Allies Win Round on Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Southerners and their allies on the House Judiciary Committee overrode its leadership and approved today a states-rights bill aimed at a Supreme Court decision.

The bill by Rep. Howard W. Smith (D-Va.) would declare that no act of Congress supersedes in state law unless Congress specifically declares its intention of doing so, or unless the laws are clearly inapplicable.

It was inspired by a Supreme Court decision voiding conviction of a Communist under a Pennsylvania sedition law. The court held that a federal anti-subversive law, which also had been introduced by Rep. Smith, had preempted the field.

The vote at the closed-door committee meeting was reported to be 17-16 to approve the measure.

The bill is opposed by the Department of Justice on the ground it would create confusion in fields such as transportation where both the states and the federal government have legislated.

It was opposed in the committee by Chairman Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.) who said there will be "a powerful minority report" asking the House to defeat it.

Class Sermon for Blevins Graduates

Baccalaureate service for the graduating class of Blevins High School will be held at 8:30 a. m. Sunday, May 17 at Bruce Memorial Methodist Church at Blevins.

Dr. L. T. Lawrence, minister of the First Presbyterian Church of Hope, will deliver the sermon.

The members of the graduating class are as follows:

House Okays More Funds for Veterans

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House, traditionally reluctant to offend veteran groups, has voted to give the Veterans Administration nearly 19 million dollars more than the House Appropriations Committee recommended. Only little more than a fourth of the membership of the House voted. The House deeply slashed President Eisenhower's budget requests for the National Science Foundation, the Federal Aviation Agency, Civil Defense and the General Services Administration.

In these cuts, however, the House followed the recommendations of its Appropriations Committee. The omnibus appropriations bill, sent to the Senate Monday by voice vote, calls for a total of $6,457,657,800, or 126 million dollars less than the President asked.

The Appropriations Committee had recommended $5,020,228,000 for the Veterans Administration. The President had requested $5,029,485,000.

But in a series of amendments proposed by Rep. Olin Teague (D-Tex.), chairman of the Veterans Affairs Committee, the House raised it to $5,039,044,000.

West Ministers Firm Against Admission of Two Soviet Satellites

Russia Proposes Czechs, Poland Be Included

GENEVA (AP)—The Soviet Union today proposed immediate admission of Communist Poland and Czechoslovakia at the foreign ministers' conference. The West refused and the formal session ended with the dispute still unsettled.

The argument over the two East European countries might tie up the conference in a long procedural wrangle which could delay work on Berlin and German problems. But one Western delegate said he did not believe the Soviets would insist too long on expanding the conference.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko spoke for the two Soviet satellites, saying they should be brought in to work on the German problems because they had suffered more than other countries in World War II.

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd of Britain and Foreign Secretary Maurice Couve de Murville of France spoke out in succession against adding other nations at this time.

They urged Gromyko to shelve the proposal for the time being, an American spokesman said, and to let the Big Four get on with a discussion of German problems.

U.S. Asst. Secretary of State Andrew Bingham said the Soviet demand ended "the matter still in the air."

Gromyko first proposed the admission of Poland and Czechoslovakia before the opening of the conference's session.

A Soviet spokesman said Gromyko had suggested informally to the Western ministers that the Communist side be enlarged, but they "did not display a positive attitude."

The spokesman said Gromyko "hereafter would submit his demand formally."

Gromyko was the conference chairman for the day.

By united resistance Monday, the Western three beat down Gromyko's bid to give Communist East Germany full membership in the parity instead of a limited advisory role. However, the Soviet diplomat won the right for the East and West German delegations to address the conference directly.

In demanding seats for Poland and Czechoslovakia, Gromyko wants to establish the principle of numerical parity between the West and the Communists in international meetings. The West has always rejected this.

The Western ministers were ready to block this maneuver and they were prepared to tell Gromyko that at a later stage of discussions in their German question, Poland and Czechoslovakia could be brought in along with other nations.

The West's argument is that the Soviet Union, the United States, Britain and France are primarily responsible for settling the problems of Germany, but other countries may be included when the talks get to issues of direct interest to them. In exchange for bringing in Poland and Czechoslovakia, the Western three would insist on adding Italy and perhaps one or two other allies.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev told a rally in Kiev Monday that a summit conference is expected even if the foreign ministers make no great progress in settling cold war issues.

Cites Money Use for Army 'Servants'

WASHINGTON (AP)—A colonel turned congressman said today the taxpayers are being charged 30 to 40 million dollars a year to provide servants in uniform for high-ranking officers.

Rep. Frank Kowalski (D-Conn.), retired colonel, made the statement. His statement was prepared for the opening of hearings on use of manpower by the armed services.

"Practically every general and admiral who occupies public quarters on a post or base has two, three, four and sometimes five enlisted men working as full-time servants available not only to cut the grass, trim the shrubbery, polish the floors, wash the windows and serve canapés," Kowalski said, "but employed also to cook and serve the family meals, wash and polish the officer's private automobile, do general house cleaning, including laundry, and take care of the dog."

Kowalski offered to show "with a few minutes' automobile ride of where we sit," officers' messes "where one can buy a hamburger which will be either cooked by a sergeant or served by a sergeant or both."

"Why should the Army draft or enlist 50 soldiers to serve as chauffeurs in the White House motor pool?" Kowalski asked.

Tri-County HD Meet to Be at Narrows

A tri-county educational and recreational day will be held at Narrows, Thursday, May 14 for all Home Demonstration Club members of Hempstead, Howard and Polk counties, according to Mrs. Lorraine Wylie, HD Agent.

Arrangements have been made for a guided tour through the dam, docks, etc. and for all members to be admitted free to the erator of diamonds, boating, swimming and other activities will be made available.

Mrs. Hazel Jordan, State HD Agent, Miss Dorothy Price, District Agent and Mrs. W. E. Nash, Southwest District Director of the HD Council, will be guest speakers.

Each club will be responsible for its own transportation. However, rides are to be pooled and anyone needing transportation, or having room for extra passengers should contact Mrs. Wylie by Wednesday. Cars will leave from the Hempstead county courthouse at 8 a. m.

Each person is to take a picnic lunch or a covered dish, a plate and silver. Bottle drinks will be made available by the Pike County Home Demonstration Council.

SW Bell Opens Offensive in Rate Battle

LITTLE ROCK (P)—Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. planned to open an offensive today against a proposal for chopping its rates in Arkansas by three million dollars a year.

A spokesman for the company said a reply to a show-cause order would be filed with the state Public Service Commission.

No details of what the reply would contain were disclosed. The PSC charged recently that the utility last year earned about three million dollars more than was justified. Southwestern Bell was told its answer to the challenge had to be filed by today.

A PSC expert was ready to go to work on the case as soon as the reply came in. A hearing date will be set later.

The firm has contended the PSC charges were erroneous. It was preparing to request a fringe rate increase when the show-cause order was issued.

Southwestern Bell, the largest telephone utility in Arkansas, has about 300,000 customers. Its rates have been under fire and on since 1940.

Mrs. Garrett Injured in Auto Wreck

J. M. Tidwell, Hope Rt. 2, driving a 1958 Mercury and Mrs. R. E. Garrett, Hope Rt. 2, driving a 1958 DeSoto, collided early today at the junction of Highway 4 and Shover Springs road.

Mrs. Garrett received head lacerations and was admitted to Branch Hospital for treatment. She is not believed seriously hurt.

Investigating officers said Mr. Tidwell was driving east on Highway 4 and Mrs. Garrett was pulling onto Highway 4 from the Shover Springs road. The investigation is not complete, said Deputy Sheriff Herbert Griffin and State Policeman Guy Downing.

Telephone Rate Hearing June 22

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Public Service Commission yesterday set a June 22 hearing on United Telephone Co.'s request to increase its rates.

The proposed increases range from 50 cents to $1.25 a month. The company asked to effect them June 1, to offset higher expenses and to help finance conversion of its system to dial telephones.

The firm has exchanges in 10 Arkansas towns, including Siloam Springs, Clarendon, Leavelle and Trumbull.

State Peach Crop Above Year Ago

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A 1.350,000-bushel Arkansas peach crop was predicted for this year by the U.S. Department of Agriculture yesterday. The estimated yield would be well above average, but below last year's 2,190,000 bushels.

Miles McPeak, federal agricultural statistician, said the 1959 crop was unusually good, and that the average crop was about 1 1/2 million bushels.

Plaintiffs in a suit challenging the two laws asked that the order be extended until May 24, when presumably they will seek a temporary injunction to replace the order.

Stamp Setup Changed by Government

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you smoke cigarettes, you're probably a law breaker without even knowing it.

The law you break is one that is never enforced. However, if you're worried, it will become null and void on June 24—the day the government scraps liquor and tobacco tax stamps.

Examine a cigarette pack and you'll probably find it says something like this: "Law forbids the use of the federal stamps hereon and requires the persons who employ this package to destroy such stamps when the package is opened."

Mrs. Garland Kidd, Mrs. W. R. Rowe, Mrs. Milam Green, Mrs. Oscar Norris, Robert Cash, V. H. Barber and Don LaFantasie.

Wheat Crop Less, Forecast Reports

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department today forecast this year's winter wheat crop at 956,610,000 bushels.

This figure is 9,622,000 bushels less than last month's forecast of 966,230,000 bushels. It compares with last year's record high of 1,179,924,000 bushels and with the emotional.

"Clearly, you violate the law if you toss away an empty pack without carefully destroying the blue stamp."

Internal Revenue Service officials reported today that no smoker ever was prosecuted for failing to destroy a stamp. They said it is the duty of law that can not be enforced.

Starting June 24, the service announced Monday tax stamps no longer will be pasted on cigarette packs and barrels of distilled spirits.

Instead, the Treasury will collect excise taxes by requiring tobacco manufacturers and distillers to file semi-monthly tax returns.

Stamps still will appear on whiskey bottles, but they aren't tax stamps. They only give assurance the tax on the whiskey has been paid.

Congress authorized an end to liquor and tobacco tax stamps five years ago. It gave the Treasury plenty of time to make the change.

The tax stamps "first" were issued in 1888, with Thomas Jefferson pictured on the first tobacco stamp. Jefferson was supplanted in 1879 by DeWitt Clinton, a governor of New York and a one-time presidential candidate.

Incidentally, the change in the tax system will, for the first time, legalize the collection of tobacco tax stamps as a hobby. It is now illegal to collect them because of the law's requirement that they be destroyed after use.

One Treasury source said the government may take advantage of this situation and sell its stock of unused stamps to collectors after June 24.

Convicts Give

their names in the paper, that's all they're after."

Hampton and Safety Committee member Greg O'Rear were ordered to the Port Pillow Prison, Tenn., by Gov. Buford Ellington Monday night, a few hours after the prisoners' riot.

The convicts, armed with knives, seized guards J. S. Voss, 45, and Hubert Newman, 57, and threatened to kill them unless the state met their demands for a conference.

A convict leader, Leonard Thompson, 20, of Mississippi, shouted to newsmen that "all we expect is a little bit of justice. We've been kicked around quite a bit."

Hampton conferred with the revolt. They complained of bad food, long work hours on the farm on 5,000 acres of bottom land and mistreatment by guards.

The riot flared on the second floor of what is known as the west wing. The rest of the prison — which has a population of about 550 — was quiet.

Lake Shipping Hits Several Large Snags

CHICAGO (AP) — Large ocean ships, venturing into the Great Lakes for the first time with opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway, have run into some stormy operating and financial weather.

By far the most agonizing thing for shippers has been the traffic jams caused by late loading and unloading.

Operating days cost money. One line's operations chief was asked to estimate losses represented by the pileup of ships in southwestern Lake Ontario at the Welland Canal.

"I've been biting my nails for three weeks," he said. "I'd be tearing my hair if I dared face it. Millions and millions of dollars; that's as close as I can come."

There have been other troubles, especially in finding berths for ships, and in handling of cargo. But nobody is throwing up his hands in despair yet.

Many of the kinks can be ironed out in time—some problems are being attacked with determination. As for the jam, which has had as many as 50 ships backed up at the Welland Canal, many shippers are hopeful that it won't happen again.

The jam of 50 ships Sunday was the greatest recorded at the canal.

If the river channel had been opened 10 days earlier, it wouldn't have happened, one shipper said.

The Great Lakes ports have presented a variety of situations for seaway ships. At Cleveland, which has nearly a dozen water berths, there have been few complaints.

Chicago, which prides itself on its new Lake Calumet port, has been handling the arrivals with late dispatch. But there have been snags.

A number of Great Lakes ports are closed to deep draft ships for lack of facilities. Some ports aren't equipped for the traffic.

At Detroit, the harbor terminal couldn't accommodate the rush of ships. Four were at berths Mon day. The 10-year average of 814,784,000 bushels.

No forecast was given for spring wheat, which has just been seeded.

But assuming a spring crop of 251,000,000 bushels — the amount indicated at average yields on the indicated acreage — the total crop would be 1,210,674,000 bushels.

Last year's total crop was 1,402,000,000, the largest of record.

The 10-year average is 1,078,000,000.

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Bob Lee, 19, of Russell Springs, sent this pencil-drawn picture to the paper. It didn't work.

The youngster asked Gov. A. B. Chandler to reduce school terms to three months a year. "If you think this could be done," he said.

Hay and four others lay in the Detroit River awaiting space.

"At Buffalo," problems include shallow harbor, inadequate docks facilities and inexperienced dock crew.

On ship captain who had allotted four days for unloading steel had to revise his schedule to 10 days.

Authorities are moving to correct defects. Canada has taken firm steps to ban ships lacking canal handling gear from the Welland Canal.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Some in the women's thought dairies in this city should continue to be required to date the containers of milk they sell.

The Women's Civic League passed out undated milk containers to City Council on which this had passed this morning.

"This milk is outdated. Will you take a chance and drink it?" The council voted unanimously to uphold the women.

SUNNYVALE, Calif. (AP) — Barnes-Hind Laboratories, Inc., which recently recalled all its Westinghouse contact lenses, says it has distributed a new one which will be sterile and pink, instead of green.

Some Food and Drug Administration two weeks ago, warned against use of one lot of the product, saying it contained a potentially dangerous form of bacteria.

Harry W. Hind, president of the drug firm, said the product had been registered with the Department of Agriculture on the previous advice of the FDA, which he said had never required sterility in the solution. There is no other difference from the old product, Hind said.

Family Argument Ends in Shooting
CLARKSVILLE, Ark. (AP)—A farmer was killed by a rifle bullet fired at him during a family argument today, officers reported. The dead man's 16-year-old daughter said she pulled the trigger.

Killed instantly was Coy Tate, 47, of the Ozark Community near Clarksville.

Deputy Sheriff Hershel Hill gave this account:
Tate and a neighbor, Arch James, had been away from home all night. They went to the Tate home about breakfast time and began drinking wine in the kitchen.

When Tate asked his wife to fix some eggs, she told him there were none in the house. He ordered his daughter, Patsy Pauline Tate, to get some from the farmyard.

An argument developed and Tate began choking his wife. Patsy said she got a .22 rifle and pointed it at her father to scare him.

She screamed at him to leave her mother alone and then the weapon discharged. The girl said she did not mean to fire.

The bullet struck Tate in the back of the head and he fell. Hill said no charges had been filed against the girl. An investigation was incomplete, he said.

DOROTHY DIX

Gal Seeks Bad Publicity, Soon Gets Too Much Of It

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm simply fed up with everything. Nothing turns out right. About two months ago, while I was baby-sitting for a neighbor, I scared and had three boys in it wasn't the first time they kept the company but it was the first time they got up. They were so noisy and the neighbors complained to the police and the boys wound up by breaking some things in the house. Of course, there was trouble with the lady I worked for and with my parents.

Now, the lady is spending the story all over - although I admit most people had heard about it from other sources. Now, nobody will hire me as a baby-sitter. I realize I was in the wrong and I think people should forget it. - Arlene

Dear Arlene: Admit the truth, girl. You know you were wrong the very first time you invited a boy, or boys, in to share your baby-sitting chores. You were not sorry about it, however, until you were caught. If you were given another chance, you'd do the same thing again. Remember that. Naturally, no mother wants to hire an irresponsible youngster to take care of her children, so you'll be out of a job until you can prove the sincerity of your regrets. This will take time, but, believe me, it's worth any amount of time and effort. I wish you luck.

Dear Dorothy Dix: We are two girls of 25, we both work. We live in a small town where there are absolutely no eligible men our age. We are not hard to look at. Would you consider us old maids? We have had people tell us we are too independent, and in a hard to please, but we'd rather go with nice boys than just anyone. - Candy, Girls

Dear Girls: The trouble with your logic is this: how do you know that anyone won't turn out to be a prize catch? The boy who makes a good showing may not be a good husband; material while the anyone who doesn't strike an immediate chord may play sweet domestic music. If your town offers no prospects whatsoever, thank your talents elsewhere. Send for my leaflet, "Travel While You Work," and learn where you can get information on all sorts of interesting jobs that pay good money, take you to far-off places - and may lead to interesting contrals.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I've received a letter from a boy who says he loves me. I don't even

Big Four of the Oriole Staff Getting Job Done

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Big Four of Baltimore's pitching staff may be the wrong four, but they've been getting the job done for the surprisingly persistent Orioles in the American League pennant race.

Before the season started, Manager Paul Richards tapped Jack Harshbarger, Arnie Portocarrero, Billy O'Dell and Milt Pappas as his Big Four. So far, only Pappas (4-0) has made it joining up with Hoyt Wilhelm (4-0), Jerry Walker (2-0) and Billy Lee (2-1), the reliever the Birds tried to get rid of, but couldn't.

Those four have accounted for 13 of the Orioles' 15 victories. Harshbarger (6-5), Portocarrero (6-3) and O'Dell (1-1) have been dropped with nine of Baltimore's 12 defeats.

Pappas won his fourth to mark his 20th birthday Monday night, getting past Washington 7-3 with late relief help from Lee, who put away his fourth save. It was the only game scheduled in the American League and edged the third place Orioles within .004 percentage points of the second place Chicago White Sox. Both trail first place Cleveland by .1% games.

In the National League, Milwaukee retained a half-game edge by whipping the Chicago Cubs 8-1 while second place Los Angeles edged Philadelphia 11-10. San Francisco swallowed Pittsburgh 14-1 in the only other game scheduled.

Pappas gave up only four hits in his 9 2/3 innings while beating the Nats a second time this year. Lee, whose April trade to Washington was voided because of arm trouble, then came on for 2 1/3 frames of one-hit shutout relief. Rookie Bob Allison had two of the Senators' hits, smacking his sixth homer and getting his second RBI with a single.

Pete Ramos, who won his first three decisions, lost his fourth in a row, giving up two of the Orioles' three homers, as Washington lost its fourth straight and slipped

Dodgers Seem to Be Returning to Normal Now

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Memorabilia to baseball fans in Los Angeles: Your Dodgers are now back to normal — coming from behind, booting the other club ahead, then scrambling from behind again only to lose the lead before winning an 11-10 ball game on a squeeze bunt in the ninth.

That's exactly the way they beat Philadelphia in Los Angeles Monday night, staying within a half-game of Milwaukee's National League leading Braves with that 10-10 decision. It wasn't neat, but it was the Dodgers' third straight win by one run.

The Braves retained their lead the easy way, putting the Chicago Cubs 8-1 in an afternoon game. San Francisco's fourth-place Giants also breezed, whipping Pittsburgh 14-1 in the only other game scheduled in the NL.

Baltimore defeated Washington 7-3 in the only American League game scheduled.

Norm Larker laid down the bunt that brought in the winner for the Dodgers. Don Demeter opened the ninth with a double against losing reliever Jim Hearn (0-1). A couple of walks, sandwiching a sacrifice, loaded the bases. Larker then bunted perfectly on the first pitch by Ray Semproch, the Phils' fifth pitcher.

The Phils had run up a 3-0 lead in three innings against Dodger starter Stan Williams, but Los Angeles tied it in the fourth on an RBI single by Duke Snider, the first hit off Jim Owens' and a two-run single by John Roseboro. Then the Phils scored six in the fifth — two on Ed Bouchee's two-out homer and the rest unscored on errors by Charlie Neal, who had handled 182 chances perfectly until last Sept. 10, and Don Zimmerman.

The Dodgers then got three more in the fifth and a tying home run in the sixth capped by Demeter's run-scoring single. A walk, sacrifice and Junior Gilliam's single gave the Dodgers the lead for the first time, 10-9, in the seventh against Dick Farrell, but winning reliever Art Fowler (3-2) gave up Gene Freese in the eighth. It was Freese's third hit of the season — all pinch hits.

The game took 3 hours, 38 minutes, just 5 minutes shy of the NL record for nine innings set by St. Louis and Chicago in 1954.

The Giants, rolling up their highest run total of the season without benefit of a home run, were off and running with four unearned runs in the fourth (0-1). They got six in the sixth, with Bob Schmidt socking his second two-run double of the game. Jack Sanford (5-2) was the winner, blanking the Braves on four hits until the seventh, when Ted Kluszewski doubled, and Bob Skinner homered. Klus's second double counted another in the eighth, and Dick Stuart hit a pinch homer in the ninth.

Bob Buhl gained his first victory for the Braves, but gave way to a pinch hitter in a five-run eighth. Buhl (1-1) had a three-hit shutout until the seventh, when Bobby Thomson doubled and pinch hitter Dale Long singled with two. Johnny Logan and Ed Mathews hit solo homers off loser, Moe Drabowsky (1-3).

As Furlong charged across the yard, there was no shooting. Then a bullet whined close and he saw Fern struggling to free herself from the one-armed embrace of a man who was backing toward the kitchen doorway.

"Brutally spurring, Furlong came at the stoop, his pony leaping onto the planks and its shoulder grazing Fern as Furlong and the gunman fired at point-blank range. One bullet ripped across the front of Furlong's mackinaw, searing his chest, and the second one killed his horse, which slid into a fourth place tie with Boston at .500. A two-run homer by Gene Woodling, his first, and Gus Triandos' seventh chased Ramos in three runs fourth.

The Birds got three more runs in the fifth — one on Bob Nieman's fourth homer — the first off Washington relief ace Dick Hyde in almost a year. Hyde has allowed only five homers in his 227 innings in the majors.

What news? "Sheriff Sid Link rode into my place shot to ribbons" late last night. He said that Ed Overmire was bad hurt at Fern Lindstrom's and needed a doctor, but Farley Breen wouldn't let Fern take Ed to town. Lillian helped me tote Sid inside. We finally got the bleeding stopped, but he must've been shot through the lungs."

Wholly awake now, Furlong asked, "Sid died?"

Pelky nodded, and now Gillum demanded, "Is Fern hurt?"

"Sid didn't say. But he warned me not to go near the place."

Turning his horse northward now, Furlong asked, "Did Link say who was with Breen?"

"Four loughs, Wade imported from Tombstone, Gunhaws, Sid said he shot one of them, along with Breen."

"How a bloody Fern? Mace asked, plainly worried. "I don't want her hurt in the mixup."

Fatigue and hunger and anxiety were having their way with Jim Furlong, he demanded harshly. "You think I want her hurt but we can't just sit out in the brush twiddling our thumbs while Ed Overmire dies."

After that, until they neared Fern's place, they rode in rain-soaked silence. Then Furlong said, "Wait here until I've had time to circle around to the north. I'll show myself in the yard and try to bring them out that way, then highlight back into the trees. One of you ease off to the east, and the other to the west side of the yard — and watch out for a sentinel."

When he gained the timber north of Fern's yard, Furlong listened for a moment, half expecting to hear a shot.

He saw Fern come to the kitchen stoop to empty a dishpan of water.

In this moment, before Fern saw him, Furlong gave the rain-swept yard a swift appraisal, observing that a horse had left deep pock-marks in the mud across the south side of the yard, and now saw Fern's right hand come up in a spasmodic gesture, waving him back.

She didn't call out. Her silence convinced Furlong that at least one gun awaited him in the house, and probably another in the barn. Because he had to tell those guns out into the yard, he called: "It's me, Fern — Jim Furlong!"

That greeting had instant effect, a man appearing in the doorway and firing as he came to the stoop, a no other man emerging from the barn. Furlong whirled his horse in swift retreat toward the trees; he heard a slug whiz past his head and, as he reached timber, a bullet tore bark from a tree beside him.

Swerving behind the sheltering tree trunks, Furlong heard other guns open up east and west of the yard. Gillum and Pelky, he thought.

advisors and I think I know what the law intended," he added. "I think I know what the Legislature intended when it passed the law."

The 1957 act requires that a majority of registered voters in a county must approve a dog-travel before one can be established. Track fees contained this meant a majority of poll tax receipt holders. The Supreme Court said a simple majority of those voting was sufficient.

Revenue Commissioner J. Orville Cheney, secretary of the state Racing Commission, said the commission would not act until the Supreme Court ruling had been certified to it.

Cheney said the next regular commission meeting was June 12, but a special meeting could be called before then.

THE QUEEN—Queen Juliana of the Netherlands marks her 50th birthday without crown or robes of state. The only daughter of Queen Wilhelmina succeeded to the throne on her mother's retirement in 1949.

NO GIMP, NO DRAWL—When Dennis Weaver first came to Hollywood, he was envisioned as another Jimmy Stewart. How did he end up? As gimping, drawing, Chester Good of "Gunsmoke." He's not sorry. It's good money.

OUTCAST—Barbara Burns, daughter of the late comedian Bob Burns, sews a rag doll for underprivileged children at Terminal Island Detention Center in Los Angeles. Miss Burns pleaded for anyone to give her a chance as an actress to help and her narcotics addiction.

CELEBRATION—Takako Takada, a 14-year-old orphan of Osaka, Japan, smiles shyly as she shows off the kimono she'll wear on a week's visit to Hawaii and the U.S. Army's 27th Infantry Regiment. One of 175 Osaka orphans supported by the 27th and the 8th Artillery, Takako will be queen of the 27th's 28th anniversary party.
